Thank you for your interest in North Carolina's waiting children. Below you will find a printable version of our Photo Adoption Listing Service (PALS). You may view or print the complete document, the specific North Carolina resource guide or just the waiting children section. Each section requires you to use Adobe Reader. If you do not have Adobe Reader, it can be easily accessed through this link: AdobeReader

NC Kids

PALS

Photo Adoption Listing Service

Complete Document

1-877-NCKIDS-1
1-877-NCKIDS-3 (TDD)

www.dhhs.state.nc.us/dss/adopt

PALS

Photo Adoption Listing Service

Resource Guide

Information about the adoption process, local county departments of Social Services and contact information.

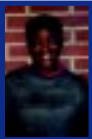

Introducing Jennifer...
Jennifer is a charming, attractive young woman with a positive, upbeat attitude. She is athletic and enjoys playing on her school's softball and basketball teams. She also likes to swim, roller skate and be involved in her church's youth group activities. Jennifer recently got a part time job with the intention of saving to buy a car.
Jennifer has made academics a priority since starting high school. She has maintained an A/B average all year, which is a major turnaround, and she is very proud of her accomplishments. Jennifer continues to attend counseling to deal with past issues and her progress there has been impressive, as well. She was diagnosed with mild attachment disorder, but she has proven to be able to form significant attachments. Jennifer does need to continue to work on accepting decisions made by adults in her life, although she is getting better at that, too. Birthday: March 28, 1986

JENNIFER

Introducing Tevis...
Tevis is always smiling. He is a likable, affectionate boy who likes to help out around his foster home. He is quite creative and enjoys drawing and coloring. Tevis also likes to play video games and ride his bike.
Tevis is at his best when he feels cared for and safe. He responds well to praise and positive feedback. Tevis attends classes in school where he learns at a level for his mild learning delays. He needs to work on adjusting to the rules, especially in school, and getting along better with other children. Birthday: March 25, 1990

A Family for Tevis...
Tevis has discussed adoption and says he is ready for a permanent, loving family of his own. His new family will need to be loving, but firm, with clearly set limits with consequences. They will need to work with Tevis' teachers at school. He would like to be able to stay in touch with his foster mom and his brother. (NC #017-T52)

TEVIS

Introducing William...
William is shy until he feels comfortable, then he can almost "talk your ear off." He is an athletic child who is partial to basketball and golf. William makes friends easily and is considered a leader. He considers himself a "gentleman," holding doors or carrying packages for women.
William attends a specialized classroom where he is better able to control his feelings and he is learning to think before he acts. Academically, William works below grade level and will likely never be successful in school. He is mechanically inclined, however, and could do very well with vocational training. His attitude has matured in his current setting where he complies with rules and gets along better with the others. Birthday: October 22, 1990

WILLIAM

Complete PALS

North Carolina Adoption Resource Guide

Meet the children

Please bookmark this page, as this photolisting is updated every month. Every child deserves a home!